

Work in Progress Student Symposium 2024

The Department of Cognitive Psychology at the Institute of Psychology, Eötvös Loránd University, is delighted to announce its annual student symposium, "Work in Progress". The primary objective is to provide a platform for students to present their research to a broader audience of peers and receive constructive feedback on their work.

Participation is open to students who have not yet obtained their Ph.D. degree. The symposium invites empirical submissions from all areas of cognitive science, including pilot studies and research plans. All presentations should be in English.

Date and time: Wednesday, February 7, 2024, 10:00 AM

Location: ELTE Psychology Institute, 1064 Budapest, Izabella u. 46, Room 101

The duration of presentations should be 10 minutes for completed studies and 5 minutes for pilot studies or research plans.

If you would like to present your work, please register here:
